June Sponsor - Melissa Harbold, Merrill Lynch

Melissa is Vice President and Wealth Management Advisor with Merrill Lynch. She has been a financial advisor since 2004, the year she graduated Cum Laude with a BBA from Loyola College. Melissa is a CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™ practitioner, earning that prestigious designation awarded by the Certified Financial Planner Board of Standards, Inc. in 2008.

At Merrill Lynch, Melissa is part of a five member team. The Benassi, Harbold Ford Group, has a combined industry experience of 105 years. The team is dedicated to providing select families with a road map to reach their financial destinations. The team believes you may find value in a one-on-one relationship with someone dedicated to knowing who you are and what you wish to accomplish. Someone who knows your kid's names, how hard you worked to get where you are, how you define a successful life and how you view investing.

Melissa is Immediate Past President of CPWN as well as the Chair for the Historic Area Commission in Port Deposit.

June Speaker - Steve Rouse, Rousedale Farm, Fallston

Born in a small town in Northern New York State, with broadcasting stops in Bangor, Charlottesville, Elmira and a few others, Steve landed in Baltimore in 1985. Starting at 92 Star, Steve's 17 year run at his next station WQSR hosting the Rouse and Company morning show was probably the highlight of his career. The show was the number one show in Baltimore for years through the nineties and into the new century. During this reign, Steve's band Stevie and the Satellites performed all over the area opening for some of the biggest entertainers in the world.

After the QSR years ended, there were Radio and TV stops at WBAL, 98 Rock, WLIF, ABC2, Fox 45 and Q1370. Steve's voice over business began in earnest and continues today as well.

Now, along with his voice being heard afternoons on WHGM in Havre de Grace and all over the country and world, Steve concentrates on his farm, Rousedale Farm in Fallston. He and his wife Vicky grow organic produce and supply eggs, chicken and honey for some of Baltimore's restaurants and market customers alike. The farm has been featured in Baltimore Magazine, The City Paper, The Baltimore Sun and other local Harford County publications.

We neglected to send out the May newsletter, and want to apologize to Lisa. She was the sponsor for the May meeting, and is on the Board of Directors for CPWN. Thank you Lisa!

A professional writer and strategic marketer, Lisa Baldino created her own business niche by meeting the writing needs of small to mid-sized companies. Turn of Phrase combines Lisa's expertise in business, communications and marketing to serve clients in a variety of industries – from electronics and banking to construction and government. Lisa is a contributing writer for I95 Business magazine and The Baltimore Sun, and she is the editor of Elegant Living Magazine. Her career includes account management at top Pittsburgh and New York agencies, 12 years at Sony Electronics in various corporate communications and marketing positions, and freelance writing for both print and broadcast media.

Lisa volunteers on the Liturgy Resource Committee at Saint Margaret Church and the Within Our Reach Symposium Steering Committee at the University of Maryland Medical Center. She is a seven-year CPWN member and currently holds a board member position. She lives in Bel Air with her husband, Greg, and their two children, Ryan, 18, and Sara, 15. Lisa enjoys dance aerobics and boxing, as well as watching her son swim and her daughter dance. Visit www.turnofphrasemarketing.com
