March Sponsor - Nettie Owens, Sappari Solutions

If you are anything like me, you know WHAT to do. You probably even know HOW to do it. You are in the classes, getting support from coaches but at the end of the day; the most important stuff is yet left undone. Nettie Owens is a productivity and organization consultant and a certified professional organizer in chronic disorganization.

In 2004 she founded Sappari Solutions, whose mission is to help people create an environment that supports WHO they are, WHAT they are doing and WHERE they are going. She does this by helping people tackle three areas of clutter in their lives SO THAT they can focus on living.

Nettie is married to the man she met on a blind date and has 3 inquisitive, homeschooled children. She graduated from Johns Hopkins University with a BA in Computer Science and a minor in entrepreneurship. She developed a proprietary organizing system and wrote the book to go with it, The Take Control System. When not helping others she can be found cooking or meandering in the woods.

March Speaker - Nicole Sherry, Orioles Head Groundskeeper

Sherry begins her 12th season as the Orioles Head Groundskeeper and her 15th season with the Orioles organization. From 2001 through 2003, she served as the Orioles' Assistant Head Groundskeeper before spending three seasons (2004-2006) with the Double-A affiliate of the New York Yankees.

She returned to the Orioles organization in November of 2006, becoming just the second woman ever to serve as the head groundskeeper with a Major League team. Sherry and Heather Nabozny, who has been with the Detroit Tigers since 1999, are the only female head groundskeepers in Major League Baseball. According to the Sports Turf Managers Association, there have been approximately 10 women who have held the position of head groundskeeper in the history of professional baseball. Sherry was the first female head groundskeeper in Eastern League history when she was named to that post for the Trenton Thunder in February of 2004, and twice was runner-up for the Eastern League's top groundskeeping award. In 2006, the Thunder honored her with a bobblehead, depicting her riding a tractor.

In February of 2016, Sherry was named the recipient of the Mary Pickersgill Award for Women's Leadership in Business by The Star-Spangled Banner Flag House. Established in 2012, the award honors a woman who demonstrates leadership in her community, exemplifies innovation in her chosen field, and has the power to inspire others.

A native of New Castle, Del., Sherry graduated from the University of Delaware with a degree in agriculture. She worked for several golf courses in Delaware and with the University of Delaware's Research and Education Center, testing new herbicides, prior to joining the Orioles in 2001 as the assistant head groundskeeper. Sherry resides in Eldersburg, Md. with her son, Tyson.
